DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see Amendment C, filed 2/6/2004, with respect to Claims 1-12, 14-19 and 21-26 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The grounds of rejection has been withdrawn.

Applicant's arguments filed 2/6/2004 with respect to Claims 13, 20, and 27 have been fully considered but are not persuasive. The amendment to Claims 13, 20 and 27 do not overcome the rejection of Kuno the examiner has added information to the rejection of the claims below to address the newly added limitation to the Claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

- 1: Claims 13, 20, and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by USPN 6,067,624 Kuno.
- 2: As for Claim 13, Kuno teaches on Column 3, Lines 51-52 and Column 4, Lines 60-62 A camera server (11) for controlling a video camera (11a) in accordance with an input video camera control command (116-118), comprising. Control unit for controlling the video camera in accordance with a video camera control command (116-118) issued by a client (13a) granted a video camera control right; Kuno teaches on Column 1, Lines 63-65 the use of register means for registering (granting control to) a plurality of clients, who have issued an obtain request to obtain a control privilege. Register unit for registering (granting control to) at least a client requesting acquisition of a video camera control right. and reception unit for receiving a video camera control command (116-118) from a client (13a). Wherein if the video camera control command (116-118) from a client not registered in the register unit is received, the register unit registers the client if there is not other client registered, and the control unit controls the video camera in accordance with the video camera control command. Kuno further teaches on Column 5, Lines 11-13 that if the camera server determines if a client is included in a camera control queue and if not included the client is added to the camera control queue. Furthermore, control request transmitting unit for transmitting a video camera control right acquisition request for a video camera to be placed to the camera server, (the video camera control right acquisition request is viewed by the examiner as the data sent to the camera server in order to give a user control of the camera. Specifically the message ID and Client ID (114 and 115) as depicted in Figure 4B is viewed as an acquisition request because the user sends ID information in an attempt to let the server know that they are a registered user. This acquisition request data can also be sent without control parameters as depicted in Figure 4A). This acquisition request (114 and 115) is transmitted as the header information in a packet that includes the camera control command (116-118). Therefore, the header information is sent in response to a user entering camera control parameters via the scroll bar. Kuno teaches on Column 4, Lines 13-25 the use of a server capable of managing control requests of a camera that are sent by plural camera control clients

3: In regards to Claim 20, Claim 20 is rejected for the reasons discussed above related to claim 13 (since claim 13 is substantively equivalent to claim 20).

Art Unit: 2612

4: As for Claim 27, Claim 27 is rejected for the reasons discussed above related to claim 13 (since claim 13 is substantively equivalent to claim 27).

Allowable Subject Matter

5: Claims 1-12, 14-19, and 21-26 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art does not teach the use of a video camera control right acquisition request which includes information to issue a permission of the video camera control right wherein the camera control command does not include the information to issue a permission of the video camera control right.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
